¹ https://oal.ca.gov/publications/notice_register/#Schedule. The Office of Administrative Law (OAL) publishes the California Regulatory Notice Register every Friday. To be published, a Notice of Proposed Regulatory Action (Notice) must be received by OAL no later than 10 calendar days before the publication date. Once the notice is published, the rulemaking process is officially started and the agency has one year within which to complete the rulemaking and to submit the rulemaking file to OAL.

² If a 15-day public comment period is needed as a result of changes made in response to public comment or OAL input, it may require a special meeting of the Commission to approve the regulations in time to file and get final approval by June 30, 2022.

³ Under Government Code 11343.4, regulations become effective on one of four quarterly dates based on when the final regulations are filed with the Secretary of State: January 1, if filed between September 1 and November 30; April 1, if filed between December 1 and February 29; July 1, if filed between March 1 and May 31; and October 1, if filed between June 1 and August 31.
